Recommendations

Jeremy has been rated as a leading silk by the Legal Directories since appointment to silk in 2000. Comments include:

- An intellectual powerhouse
- A very positive vibe that makes him a fantastic team player
- Deals adroitly with highly technical construction disputes
- Provides an impressive strategic oversight

Jeremy has an outstanding track record in achieving successful conclusions in large and complex disputes. He is known for his mastery of technical detail and legal argument, lateral thinking, strategic advice, and team leadership.

Construction Engineering and Energy

Jeremy has extensive experience of international arbitrations; including arbitrations concerning projects for the renovation of an historic head office building in Shanghai; construction of a power station in Pakistan; design and construction of Dubai Drydocks; design and construction of Port Rashid; construction of sewerage for Dubai Municipality; and viaduct construction in Italy and UK.

He has recently completed as an arbitrator a major construction arbitration in the Dubai International Arbitration Centre about Dubai Terminal 3.

Jeremy has wide experience of different types of sites, buildings, structures, and plant; and also of IT systems.

Clients for whom Jeremy has acted include Aviva; British Airways; Corporation of the City of London; IBM; Marks and Spencer; Ove Arup & Partners; Royal & Sun Alliance; and the UK Government.

Insurance

As a result of his involvement in construction and related professional negligence, Jeremy frequently acts for insurers in policy disputes and recoveries: involving property insurance, professional indemnity insurance, and other liability insurance.

Commercial Disputes

Jeremy also has extensive experience of other commercial disputes.
